The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

4. The terminal disclaimer filed on 02/27/2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent No. 6,542,608 B2 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3-34, 37-65, and 67-70 are allowed.

8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 3-34; and 37-65 and 67-70 are drawn to a cryptographic key split combiner and a process for forming cryptographic keys, respectively. The closest prior art, Hirsch, U.S. Patent No. 5,276,738 A in view of Albert et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,627,894 A, discloses a similar key split combiner and process. Hirsch illustrates a cryptographic key split combiner and a process for combining comprising: a plurality of key split generators for generating cryptographic key splits (see column 1, lines 57-67); a key split randomizer for randomizing the cryptographic key splits to produce a cryptographic key (see column 1, lines 54-57 and lines 62-68; column 2, lines 1-7; column 3, lines 60-65; and figure 1A, items 10, 12, and 16); in which each of the key split generators includes means for generating key splits from seed data (see column 1, lines 49-54 and lines 62-64); in which the plurality of key split generators includes a random split generator for generating a random key split based on reference data (see column 2, lines 55-58); and generating a pseudorandom sequence based on reference data (see column 2, lines 23-29).

Art Unit: 2132

Albert et. Al. specify generating a random sequence(see column 1, lines 51-67 and column 2, lines 1-2). However, they neither teach nor suggest generating a random sequence based on the reference data. This particular limitation incorporated into independent claims 3 and 37 renders claims 3-34; and 37-65 and 67-70, respectively, allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
